

About The Physiotherapy Centre

Joshua and Katie Hay - Directors of TPC

About Us

The Physiotherapy Centre has been servicing the community for over 40 years. Josh and Katie Hay first took over the business 9 years ago in 2009. Since then we have seen the business expand to include many varied services including occupational therapy, remedial massage, clinical pilates and exercise physiology and all that they encompass. We pride ourselves in knowing that our broad range of services means better overall care for our patients – we really are 'more than just physio...'

What's not to love about living in Stanthorpe or Warwick!! No traffic hold ups with as little as 5 minutes drive to work. Enjoy the fresh country air and being able to see the stars at night. This could be just the change you are looking for. Opportunities to purchase real estate or larger blocks for much more affordable prices. With Warwick, being only 1 ½ hours away from Brisbane – it's the perfect balance for life.

What is so good about working in a private practice?

In private practice, you will experience quite a varied caseload. Your day can be broken up between visiting the hydro pool, supervising group exercise classes, or Pilates if that is your thing. We provide regular home visits, and service a number of local nursing homes, as well as providing presentations to the community from time to time. You get the satisfaction of seeing patients get results from your therapy – and seeing it through to the end. We offer support from other staff if you need, as well as the opportunity to work independently.

Looking for a Challenge?

We have an opportunity for someone looking for a challenge! With us you can be involved in more than just physio. You can exercise initiative in marketing and promotion to assist growth of the business in our second branch located in Stanthorpe. We value your ideas towards the business and love taking on new ventures and being innovative where we can. No time for getting bored!

Love your Job

We like to find the area of interest for our employees and support them by contributing towards costs of professional development, advertising and purchasing any equipment required to get it up and running. We believe that people should enjoy their work! An example of this is our Pilates program that is now up and running successfully with 7 classes per week. We also encourage our staff to have a regular monthly massage, at our cost. We realise your work is physical and it is important to look after your health. We also offer flexible work hours to fit in with your lifestyle and promote a great work/life balance. You may also be entitled to a relocation tax subsidy for the first 6 months.
